

THE CLEVELAND INDUSTRIAL ARCHAEOLOGIST

(ISSN 0306-3259)

| Number 1 (1974 )                              |                   | Pages |
|--|-------------------|--------------|
| Stokesley Mill.                                      | J K Harrison      | 1 - 8        |
| Bessemer converter tuyeres at Eston.                 | D M Tomlin        | 9 - 14       |
| Cornwall - A County rich in relics of past industry. | A E & C D Shayler | 15 - 19      |

| Number 2 (1975) SYMPOSIUM ON THE ALUM INDUSTRY             |                | Pages |
|---|----------------|--------------|
| A brief history of the alum industry in North Yorkshire 1600-1875 | R L Pickles    | 1 - 10       |
| Technical aspects of alum-making.                                 | J K Almond     | 11 - 20      |
| The alum workers.   | B J D Harrison | 21 - 26      |
| Excavation at the Boulby Alum Works.                              | S K Chapman    | 27 - 34      |
| Discussion at meeting held on 24 March 1974                       |                | 35 - 40      |

| Number 3 (1975)   |                    | Pages |
|--|--------------------|--------------|
| 'The bridge across the glen' at Saltburn.  | J K Harrison et al | 1 - 12       |
| Jet mining in North East Yorkshire.  | J S Owen           | 13 - 22      |
| The North Skelton Ironstone Mine.  | P Tuffs            | 23 - 30      |
| Thomas-Gilchrist basic-steelmaking experiments in Cleveland, and Mr J R Skinner, chemist with Bolckow, Vaughan & Co. Ltd | J K Almond         | 31 - 34      |
| The English post windmill.   | A E & C D Shayler  | 35 - 44      |
| Number 4 (1975) THE EARLY CHEMICAL INDUSTRY OF THE NORTH EAST   |                    | Pages |
| A synoptic view of the early chemical industry of the North East.  | W A Campbell       | 1 - 6        |
| The early chemical works of Teesside.  | D M Tomlin         | 7 - 12       |
| The nineteenth century salt and alkali industry of Cleveland.  | C McNab            | 13 - 18      |
| From Tyne to Tees.   | W A Campbell       | 19 - 22      |
| Billingham - the early years of a large new works.   | G G Robson         | 23 - 30      |
| Discussion at meeting held on 23 March 1975  |                    | 31 - 33      |

| Number 5 (1976)  |                 | Pages |
|---|-----------------|--------------|
| Whinstone mining & quarrying in N E Yorkshire.                            | J S Owen        | 1 - 10       |
| Philip Webb and the Bell family.  | J Brandon-Jones | 11 - 16      |
| Philip Webb's industrial buildings for Bell Bros. in their local context. | J K Harrison    | 17 - 20      |
| The Kilton Ironstone Mine   | P Tuffs         | 21 - 33      |
| Sir John's Mine, Tynehead, Garrigill.                                     | H L Beadle      | 35 - 41      |

| Number 6 (1976) THE HISTORY OF STEAM POWER IN THE NORTH EAST  |                | Pages |
|--|----------------|--------------|
| From mining to the stars: or how national pride led to a fundamental theory.                                       | C A Hempstead  | 1 - 10       |
| Thomas Hawksley and the steam powered water pumping stations of the Sunderland and South Shields Water Company.    | Dr S M Linsley | 11 - 18      |
| A history of early blowing engines in the N E of England and of the development of the 'Cleveland' blowing engine. | J K Harrison   | 19 - 34      |
| Steam utilisation in electric power generation: A survey of historical development in the North East of England.   | R P Kent       | 35 - 40      |
| Discussion at meeting held on 21 March 1976  |                | 41 - 44      |

| Number 7 (1977)  |                      | Pages |
|---|----------------------|--------------|
| The Esk Valley Ironstone Mine: Part 1, documented history     | J S Owen             | 1 - 10       |
| The Esk Valley Ironstone Mine: Part 2, some site details.     | J S Owen and P Tuffs | 11 - 15      |
| Lady's Rake Lead Mine.  | H L Beadle           | 17 - 23      |
| The Waste Heat Company  | D W Pattenden        | 25 - 36      |
| The bore holes and salt works of the Tees Estuary             | D M Tomlin           | 37 - 46      |
| The development of the titanium pigment industry on Teesside. | F R Williams         | 47 - 52      |

| Number 8 (1978) SKINNINGROVE AND ITS NEIGHBOURHOOD                   |                | Pages |
|---|----------------|--------------|
| Pre-1865 ironstone mining development at Skinningrove.                      | J S Owen       | 1 - 8        |
| Railways around Skinningrove.   | N G Lillywhite | 9 - 14       |
| The struggle for existence of a small works in the iron and steel industry. | W G B Bradley  | 15 - 24      |
| Skinningrove: village and people in the early 1879s                         | B J D Harrison | 25 - 30      |
| Addendum : Mr. S. F. Okey's account of the start of ironstone mining.       |                | 31 - 32      |
| Discussion at meeting held on 20 March 1977.                                |                | 33 - 38      |

| Number 9 (1978)                                  |   | Pages |
|---|---|--------------|
| Description of the Waddle fan, Lumpsey Ironstone Mine.  | S A Chapman                                 | 1 - 5        |
| The Esk Valley cottages.                                | notes by J S Owen; drawings byJ B Riley | 7 - 10       |
| Lingdale Ironstone Mine                                 | P Tuffs                                     | 11 - 22      |
| The Cleveland Salt Company                              | D M Tomlin                                  | 23 - 30      |
| Number 10 (1979) THE BRIDGES OVER THE RIVER TEES |   | Pages |
| The shape of bridges and the form of theory.            | C A Hempstead                               | 1 - 15       |
| The bridges of Yarm.                                    | D H Pearce                                  | 17 - 21      |
| Stockton's road bridges                                 | D M Tomlin                                  | 23 - 25      |
| The Transporter Bridge, Middlesbrough                   | M Stockwell                                 | 27 - 31      |
| Newport Bridge, Middlesbrough.                          | M Stockwell                                 | 33 - 37      |
| The arch water bridge of Stockton.                      | C A Hempstead                               | 39 - 40      |
| The A19 road bridge.                                    | C King                                      | 41 - 45      |

| Number 11 (1979)   |               | Pages |
|---|---------------|--------------|
| The river bridges on the Middlesbrough Branch of the Stockton and Darlington Railway. | Charles McNab | 1 - 6        |
| The genesis of the transporter bridge.  | D W Pattenden | 7 - 11       |
| Esk Valley Ironstone Mine: Part 3, Excavations completed.                             | J S Owen      | 13 - 24      |
| Ventilating furnace at Ayton Ironstone Mine.  | S A Chapman   | 25 - 26      |
| The Newport oval iron blast furnace.  | A T Ledgard   | 27 - 29      |

| Number 12 (1980) INDUSTRIAL ASPECTS OF GUISBOROUGH   |                   | Pages |
|---|-------------------|--------------|
| The impact of industrialisation on the town of Guisborough. | B J D Harrison    | 1 - 3        |
| The early years of alum making in Guisborough.              | Mrs Anne Harrison | 5 - 9        |
| Eighteenth century corn milling venture in Guisborough.     | J K Harrison      | 11 - 18      |
| The Cleveland Railway.                                      | Miss Grace Dixon  | 19 - 22      |
| The Blakett Hutton Foundry.                                 | J McConnell       | 23 - 27      |
| Discussion at meeting held on 25 March 1979.                |                   | 29 - 30      |

| Number 13 (1981)                            |             | Pages |
|--|-------------|--------------|
| Teesdale Mining Company, 1821-1842                 | H L Beadle  | 1 - 14       |
| The ventilating machines of M Guibal in Cleveland. | S A Chapman | 15 - 21      |
| Scoria Blocks.                                     | C H Morris  | 23 - 32      |
| Warren Moor Ironstone Mine, Kildale.               | J S Owen    | 33 – 53      |

| Number 14 (1982)                                    |                                    | Pages |
|--|------------------------------------|--------------|
| Industrial archaeological sites in the County of Cleveland | prepared by members of the Society | 28 pages     |

| Number 15 (1983) SHIPS AND SHIPBUILDING ON THE TEES                 |                | Pages |
|--|----------------|--------------|
| History of the River Tees shipyards.                                       | W Harrison MBE | 1 - 10       |
| The SS 'De Brus ' - the first iron steamship to be built in Middlesbrough. | D W Pattenden  | 11 - 19      |
| Developments in the theory of ship hull design at mid-19th century.        | C A Hempstead  | 21 - 30      |
| Lonsdale Ironstone Mine, Kildale.  | J S Owen       | 31 - 48      |
| Ships and shipbuilding - extracts from discussion held in March 1981.      |                | 49           |

| Number 16 (1984) BRICKS AND MORTAR       |                   | Pages |
|---|-------------------|--------------|
| Bricks and early Middlesbrough brickmakers.     | D W Pattenden     | 1 – 12       |
| The Carrs Tilery, Margrove Park.                | J K Harrison      | 13 – 28      |
| George Lambert, brickmaker.                     | Mrs Marie Lambert | 29 – 33      |
| 160 years of cement manufacture in Cleveland.   | C H Morris        | 35 – 54      |
| Extracts from discussion held on 28 March 1982. |                   | 55           |
| Bricks and Mortar: some sources of information. |                   | 56           |

| Number 17 (1985)   |                  | Pages |
|---|------------------|--------------|
| Early electricity supplies on Teesside.   | D W Pattenden    | 1 – 20       |
| Disappearing railway stations: the Middlesbrough – Guisborough Railway.             | Miss Grace Dixon | 21 – 30      |
| Leeds Corporation, and whinstone extraction from Cliff Rigg, Great Ayton, 1869-1883 | R Pepper         | 31 – 46      |
| The main winder at Kilton Mine.   | S A Chapman      | 47 – 49      |
| A note on cement manufacture in Cleveland, at ICI Casebourne works.                 | D J M Rowe       | 51 – 54      |
| Whitby and Robin Hood's Bay Steam Packet Company 1853-1867.                         | T M Quinn        | 55 – 68      |

| Number 18 (1986) MIDDLESBROUGH DOCK AND RUTWAYS   |                  | Pages |
|--|------------------|--------------|
| The history of Middlesbrough Dock.   | D W Pattenden    | 1 – 22       |
| Rutways before railways on the Yorkshire coast, with details of twelve sites between Saltburn and Scarborough. | J S Owen         | 23 – 32      |
| Number 19 (1987 – 1988) THE WATER IN YOUR TAP: THE DEVELOPMENT OF LOCAL SUPPLIES                        |                  | Pages |
| Guisborough's water supply: a century of development.  | Miss Grace Dixon | 1 – 14       |
| Water-borne disease in nineteenth century Cleveland.   | G S Stout        | 15 – 20      |
| The history of water supply  | J F Prentice     | 21 – 30      |
| Discussion on 'The water in your tap' at Symposium 16 March 1986   |                  | 31 – 34      |
| Notes on Stockton and Middlesbrough water supplies.  | J K Almond       | 35 – 36      |
| Liverton Ironstone Mine: A history.  | S A Chapman      | 37 – 42      |
| Number 20 (1990)  |                  | Pages |
| The Stockton and Darlington Railway booking office.  | R Brunner-Ellis  | 1 - 7        |

| Number 20 (1990)   |                                       | Pages |
|---|---------------------------------------|--------------|
| Notes on Ironmaking in Cleveland, 1945-1951.  | K C Sharp                             | 9 - 16       |
| Reminiscences of Cleveland iron and steel industry, edited from an evening's discussion meeting). | M A Raisbeck, A Oliver, and R Walters | 17 - 30      |
| Dorman Long and Company Ltd. 1889 - 1967: notes towards a history.                                | I C Malcolm                           | 31 - 57      |
| CIAS issues 1-20 (1974-1990) chronological list of contents and alphabetical list of authors      |                                       | I – IX       |

| Number 21 (1992)   |             | Pages |
|---|-------------|--------------|
| Wiregill Lead Mine in Teesdale: an attempt to revive mining and to continue to operate after the London Lead Company gave up the lease in 1902. | H L Beadle  | 1 - 24       |
| The Skelton Ironstone Mines of Messrs Bell Brothers in Cleveland.   | S A Chapman | 25 - 68      |

| Number 22 (1994)                             |                         | Pages |
|---|-------------------------|--------------|
| The ironstone calcining kilns in Scugdale, Swainby. | Mrs C B Cook & J S Owen | 1 – 11       |

| Number 22 (1994)   |               | Pages |
|---|---------------|--------------|
| Early water supplies in Ormesby.  | D W Pattenden | 13 – 19      |
| A historical outline of magnesium production from seawater at Hartlepool.     | R M Evans     | 21 – 23      |
| Chaloner (Guisborough) ironstone mine 1872-1879.                              | R Pepper      | 25 – 38      |
| Walker's Pit in Newtondale.   | J S Owen      | 39 – 46      |
| Number 23 (1996)   |               | Pages |
| The Whitecliffe Mines.  | S A Chapman   | 1 – 43       |
| Site update of Skelton Park Pit (The CIA No. 21).                             | S A Chapman   | 43 – 48      |
| Number 24 (1997)   |               | Pages |
| Industrial Archaeology in Cleveland: the first 30 years.                      | J K Harrison  | 1 – 11       |
| The North-Yorkshire alum industry: a technical analysis of the processes used | A E Rout      | 13 – 55      |

| Number 25 (1998)   |                     | Pages |
|---|---------------------|--------------|
| The identification, commercial evaluation and initial exploitation of alum shale deposits in the British Isles.     | A E Rout            | 1 – 17       |
| Roseberry Mine tramway: thoughts concerning details at the incline head.  | J S Owen & R Pepper | 18 – 20      |
| The other Warden Law haulage engine house (A surviving structure from the Seaham and Rainton Railway).              | S A Chapman         | 21 – 28      |
| Hydraulic machinery at Hutton Home Farm, near Guisborough.  | J K Harrison        | 29 – 42      |
| Number 26 (2000)   |                     | Pages |
| Evidence of the alum industry on the foreshore at Ravenscar   | D Green             | 3 – 11       |
| Sir Joseph Bank's account of alum making at Kettlewell, North Yorkshire.  | C E Thornton        | 13 – 18      |
| A medieval bloomery at Tarn Hole in Bilsdale in the North York Moors: A re-assessment of an excavation of the 1970s | J K Harrison        | 19 – 34      |
| Hydroelectricity generation in the Yorkshire Dales.   | T T Hay             | 35 – 53      |

| Number 27 (2002)   |                         | Pages |
|---|-------------------------|--------------|
| A matter of topography, geology and land ownership: Fredrick Greenwood's Royalty (Eston Mines) 1853-1870. | R Pepper                | 3 - 22       |
| The Blakett Hutton Cleveland Steel foundry, Guisborough: the final years.                                 | J McConnell             | 23 - 26      |
| The Eston blacksmith's workshop and cottage.  | Deborah Walsh           | 27 - 32      |
| Steelfounding in north-east England: an inside view.  | A Scott                 | 33 - 46      |
| Number 28 (2003)   |                         | Pages |
| Thomas Allison's geological excursions during the 1850s: principally in the North York Moors.             | J K Almond              | 3 - 25       |
| Ironstone mining in Scugdale near Swanby, west of Stokesley   | Carol Cook              | 27 - 42      |
| Ayresome Ironworks, Middlesbrough, and Klenshyttan Ironworks, Sweden.                                     | J K Harrison            | 43 - 54      |
| Views of the Blakett Hutton Foundary: Photographs by Dennis Wompra .                                      | Captions by A M Burgess | 55 – 63      |

| Number 29 (2004)   |                                   | Pages |
|---|-----------------------------------|--------------|
| Why Stockton-on-Tees did not become a Newcastle, nor Lemington-on-Tyne a Middlesbrough.                       | J K Almond                        | 3 - 25       |
| The Middleton Ironworks: Survey of the Blowing Engine House   | Carol Cook                        | 27 - 42      |
| Newsletters of the Teesside Industrial Archaeology Group and of the Cleveland Industrial Archaeology Society. | J K Harrison                      | 43 - 54      |
| Number 30 (2005)   |                                   | Pages |
| Sir George Colebrook's Attempted Alum Monopoly and the Great Ayton Alum Works                                 | Ian Pearce                        | 3 - 14       |
| Ayton Banks Alum Works  | Robert H de Wardt & David Taylor  | 15 - 27      |
| Boulby Alum Works Tunnel Revisited.   | Charles H Morris & Simon Whitlock | 29 - 45      |
| A Jet Mine in Chapel Wood, Ingleby.   | Peter F Ryder & Ernie Shield      | 47 - 50      |
| A 1900 Steam-driven Overhead Travelling Crane and a circa 1900 12-foot Diameter Faceplate Lathe.              | D Whitfield                       | 51 - 70      |

| Number 31 (2006)   |                                   | Pages |
|---|-----------------------------------|--------------|
| Seaton Carew Ironworks: John Henry Proud's reminiscences in the early 20th Century with commentaries and notes. | John Henderson Proud & J K Almond | 3 - 47       |
| Walkers Detaching Hook.   | Tony & Cath Lynn                  | 49 - 56      |
| Number 32 (2008)   |                                   | Pages |
| The Wooden Bridge over the River Tees at Sockburn, 1838-c1890.  | D Whitfield                       | 3 - 13       |
| William Jones and the first Chemical Factory in Middlesbrough.  | I Pearce                          | 15 - 30      |
| Tees Bridge Watch 1998-2007.  | C H Morris                        | 31 - 52      |
| Number 33 (2012)   |                                   | Pages |
| Blast Furnaces at Redcar 1870 - 2010  | C H Morris                        | 1 - 29       |
| A Visitor's Guide to the Alum Works.  | S A Chapman                       | 31 - 42      |
| Geological background to the North Yorkshire Alum Industry  | D C Goldring                      | 43 - 65      |
| Seaton Carew Ironworks: Scenes in the 1920s and 1930s.  | J K Almond                        | 67 - 86      |
| Number 34 (2013)   |                                   | Pages |
| Thomas & William Whitwell and the Thornaby Iron Works   | A Bettaney                        | 1 - 54       |

| Number 34 (2013)  |             | Pages |
|--|-------------|--------------|
| CIAS Publications Indices  |             | 56 – 64      |
| Number 35 (2015)  |             | Pages |
| Last traces of the Alum Works at Saltburn  | C H Morris  | 3 - 18       |
| Exploited ironstone resources of Cleveland: an overview with the emphasis on geological background                         | D Goldring  | 19 – 55      |
| Number 36 (2016)  |             | Pages |
| Zinc and Sulphuric Acid Works at Seaton Snook  | A Bettenev  | 3 – 76       |
| Industrial Sites in the Cleveland Area: supplementary list 1   |             | 77 – 84      |
| Number 37 (2017)  |             | Pages |
| Wrought Iron, Steel, or Hybrid – the decisions facing Cleveland’s Ironmasters in the second half of the nineteenth century | R Widdowson | 3-54         |
| Industrial Sites in the Cleveland Area: supplementary list 2.  |             | 55-68        |
| Number 38 (2018)  |             | Pages |
| Upleatham Ironstone Mines, Hauling House Excavation at East Winning 2011   | S A Chapman | 3-18         |

| Number 38 (2018)  |                                  | Pages |
|--|----------------------------------|--------------|
| The First Stockton Ironworks   | A Bettenev                       | 19-34        |
| Memories of Cargo Fleet Steel and Iron Works in the 1950's                             | M R Graham                       | 35-42        |
| Engineering geology applied to construction projects at Redcar Iron Works in the 1970s | D.C. Goldring and D.A. Greenwood | 43-55        |

| Number 39 (2019)   |            | Pages |
|---|------------|--------------|
| Corn Mills in the north Stockton-on-Tees area: a Historical Gazetteer.  | A Bettenev | 3 - 61       |
| In situ underground remains in UK mines:Part 1 Hydraulic machinery in the Sir Francis Level, Gunnerside Gill, Swaledale | C Twigg    | 63 - 68      |

| Number 40 (2020)   |                | Pages |
|---|----------------|--------------|
| A new interpretation of the alleged alum works at Grosmont                                | Peter Appleton | 3 - 11       |
| Nesham and Welch Ironfounders and Engineers of Portrack Lane Iron Works, Stockton-on-Tees | A Bettenev     | 13 - 36      |
| Report of Explosion of boilers at the Redcar Ironworks                                    | A Bettenev     | 37 - 58      |

| Number 41 (2023)  | Pages                                  |
|--|---|
| Excavations at the North Shore Pottery, Stockton-on-Tees                           | Richard Annis5 - 15                       |
| Sea Walls Around Greatham Creek  | Ian Macdonald and AlanBettenev17 - 27 |
| The Stockton Stone and Concrete Company  | Alan Bettenev29 - 68                      |
| The Wilton Estate in Teesside industrial history, Part I: During private ownership | Elizabeth C Marsh69 - 93                  |